FIRST-YEAR

WE'VE GOT MOST OF THEM NOW.

KATAGIRI HIGH SPORTS FESTIVAL TEAM DIVISION METHOD

YEAR 1, CLASS 1 ..... YEAR 3, CLASS 6

EACH CLASS IS DIVIDED INTO "EAST" AND "WEST."

IN ANY CASE, IT'S NOT THE SORT OF THING YOU CAN DECIDE THROUGH DISCUSSION.

EACH CLASS SPLITS INTO GIRLS' AND BOYS' TEAMS TO AVOID GENDER BIAS, SO I EXPECT ALL THE CLASSES DID USE A LOTTERY.

PARA (FLIP) パラ

DID ALL THE CLASSES DECIDE BY LOTTERY?

THE TEAM SPLIT, I MEAN.

EAST.

BY THE WAY, SENGOKU, WHAT ABOUT YOU?

TON (TAP) トントン TON

CHUUU (SLUUURP) ちゅー

STILL, I'M GLAD WE'RE ON THE SAME TEAM, ISHIKAWA-KUN.

Translation Notes

Page 44 – Akane Yanagi
Yanagi's full name is written with the characters for "bright (music) note" and "willow tree." Akane, his first name, is also more commonly a girl's name. These facts could contribute to Tooru thinking Yanagi's name is cool.

Page 56 – The moon-viewing one
This is a famous McDonald's item in Japan. First released in 1991, it's basically just a burger with a fried egg on it (to represent the moon), but it's only available in September during the traditional "moon-viewing" period. It's popular enough that many people want it to be a year-round item.

Page 65 – Type O
In Japan, blood types are said to influence personality. Type O people tend to be extroverts who are opinionated, enthusiastic, and good at adapting to situations.

Cavalry battles are fought by two teams; each team is split into groups of four, with three members carrying the fourth (the "rider"). The riders must either unseat riders from the other team or steal their cloth headbands. The winning team is the one with the most undefeated riders at the end.
In pole-toppling, each team has a long pole that they must defend. The goal is to topple the opposing team's pole to a certain angle (usually thirty degrees) before they topple your team's pole that far.

A Hannya is a Noh demon mask that symbolizes female jealousy, anger, or vengefulness.
